

THE GRAIN INDUSTRY

Successful grain businesses recognize that it is more effective from a cost and performance basis to network with qualified contractors like Hulcher Services for the maintenance of their railroad and facility properties.

As a service contractor with over 40 years of experience, Hulcher brings its expertise to the grain industry on a variety of Mechanical / Railroad Services, Transfer / Load Adjustment Services, Environmental Services and Disaster Response.

Some of these services include:

- Grain load transfers, reductions and adjustments
- Derailment response on facility property
- Product reclamation and spill clean-up following spill or derailment
- Pressure washing grain bins, silos and hopper cars
- Vacuum truck / transfer vacuum truck services
- Disaster response to floods and other emergencies
- Silo / bin bulk transfer services

Hulcher equipment and crews can deploy within one hour of your call, any time day or night. Our 24/7/365 call center and strategically-positioned divisions ensure that we can respond to wherever you need us. Hulcher has many years of experience with grain businesses and maintains service agreements with the largest companies in the grain industry.

Whether you are responding to a flooded grain silo or an overloaded railcar full of food pellets, you need quality equipment, maintained to be reliable and operated by experienced service contractor professionals, and they must be able to respond when you need them.

When you need reliable support for your grain project, call Hulcher at 800-637-5471.